In the Broad Arrow of the 26th November, we note the promotion of Lieut-Colonel and Brevet Colonol Gerald Graham, V.C., C.B., Royal Engineers, to Major General, to take effect from the 19th October last. From a late edition of Hart's Army List we take the following record of Major General Graham's services :- Served throughout the Eastern Campaign of 1854,55, including the battles of Alma and Inkerman, and served in the trenches throughout the siege of Sebastopol-twice wounded. Led a ladder party to the assault of the Redan on the 18th June 1855 (V.C.), and was on duty in the trenches at the final assault of the 8th September. Employed in the destruction of the Docks of Sobastopol (Modal with three clasps, Knight of the Legion of Honor, oth-class-of-the Medjidie, Turkish Medal and Brevet of Major). Served throughout the campaign of 1860 in North China, including the assault of Tangku and the Taku Forts, and sugrender of Pekinwounded with jingall-ball (Medal with two clasps, and Brevet of Lt. Colonel).

Amondst the departures for England to-day by the P. and O. Company's steamer Peshawar, we notice the name of Colonel Hall, R.A. Col. Hallhas been in command of the Royal Artillery in China and the Straits Settlements since March 1875, an unusually long period for a commanding officer to remain on this station. The Colonel goes 2 p.m.-Auction of Household Furniture, home on promotion, and is succeeded in the command by Lieut, Colonel G.A. Crawford, who arrived here yesterday by the Kaiser-I-Hind, from Bombay. During Colorul Hall's stay in this garrison he has identified himself with many of the local sports and pastimes; he has taken a great interest in entertainments got up for the recreation of the men during the last few years past; and he has invariably endeavoured to promote good feeling between officers and mon during his command. In these efforts he has been most ably seconded and supported by his talented lady and most promising son Harry, who has already gained considerable distinction in connection with the public services at St. John's Jathedral and in the Choral Society. Colonel Hall, whose first commission is lated 19th Dec. 1849, has several times acted as Commanding Officer of the Station during the absence of the General, and sat in the Executive Council while fulfilling the duties of Senior Officer. His successor in the command of the Artillery here, Colonel Crawford, joined the service in February 1855, was promoted Captain in December 1862, Major in July, 1872, and to his present rank in October last.

WE remarked some four months ago upon the progress that was being made at Keelung, in regard to the Colliery there; and while noting the increase in the out put of spal, we predicted that the year 1881 would how a further increase, not only in coal actually brought to the surface, but in the sales and exportation. We now learn that no less than 54,000 tons of coal have been raised during the last year, as compared with 41,000 tons in the year 1880. This speaks well for those concerned in the mining operations at the Government Colliery; but the result as to the disposal of the coal, after having been brought to the surface, is still more satisfactory, and most forcibly justifies the improved conditions under which things in connection with the Government Colliery is now managed, It is most interesting to note, in view of past experience, that during the year 1881 no less than 60,000 tons of coal have been disposed of-that is to say, that the Colliery has succeeded in selling six thousand tons over the total out-put for the year. The accumulating stooks were beginning seriously to interfere with the progress of the undertaking; and the signal success of the new system of management will do much to show the Chinese officials most immediately concerned that Foreigners unfettered can work in the interest of others as well as their own. During the past year the port of Keelung had naturally been lively and stirring, as it had been visited by some sixtysix trading steamers, and sailing vessels, exclusive of Government and war vessels, chroughout that period. According to our last advices, there were eight vessels in port, waiting to be loaded with coal, the cargoes of which would serve to swell the total export for the year upon which we have now entered. Indeed, although the export of 1881 is the largest yet known, it appears not unlikely that, as the demand is increasing, the present year may show a still larger business to the credit of the celebrated coal port of North Formosa,

A similar howder is used in India for burnishing ornaments and it gives them a silvery appearance. He then produced a small piece of copper which he had burnished with the powder in question, and which had all the appearance of silver.

THE CHINA REVIEW. THE widely-expressed regret at the discontinuance of Notes & Queries on China and Japan, has induced the publish ers of this journal to issue a publication similar in object and style, but slightly modified in certain details. THE CHINA REVIEW, or Notes and Queries on the Har East, is issued at intervals of two months, each number contairing about 60 octave pages, occasionally illustrated with lithographs, photographs woodcuts, &c., should the papers, published demand, and the circulation justify, such extra matter.

The subscription is fixed at $6.50 postage paid, per annum, payable by non-residents in Hongkong half-yearly in advance. The publication includes papers original and selected upon the Arts and Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Lithrature, Mythology, Manners and Cus. toms, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, the Eastern Archipelego and the "Far East" generally. A more detailed list of subjects upon which contributions are especially invited is incorporated with each number. Original contributions in Chinese, Latin French, German, Spanish, Italian or Portugueses are admissible. Endeavours are made to present a resume in each number of the contents of the most recent works bearing on Chinese matters. Great attention is also paid to the Review department. Notes and Replies are classified toggther as " Notes" (head references being given, when furnished, to provious Notes or Queries), as are also those queries which though asking for information, furnish new or unpublished details concerning the mattor in hand. It is desirable to make the Querles proper as brief and as much to the point as possible.

The China Review for July and August, 1875, is at hand. It says that forty-two essays were sent in to compute for the best paper on the advantages of Christianity for the development of a State. All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising Review. It is a sixty paged, bi-monthly, repertory of what scholars are ascertaining about China. The lecture on Chinose Poetry in this volume is alone worth the price of the Meview. Address China Review. Hongkong. - Northern Obristian Advocate (U.S.)

Tridmer's Oriental Record caritains the following notice of the China Review :- " This is the title of a publication, the first number of which has lately reached us from Hongkong, where it has been set on foot as insome respects a continuation of Notes and -Queries on China and Japan, the extinction of which useful serial a year or two ago has been much regretted in Enrope as well as in China. The breaent publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calculta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late, years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable ; and contributions of much interest may fairly he looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high dogree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously oultivated. and who are severally represented in the first number of the lieview by papers highly creditable to their respective authors. in a paper on 1)r. Legge's Ske King, by the Rev. E. J. Eitel, to which the place of honour is deservedly given, an excellent summary is presented of the chronological problems and arguments involved in connexion with this important work. Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to Chiha and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality detail, we are glad to notice that "Notes" and "Queries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predepersor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insure its continuance. The publication is intended to appear every two months, and will form a substantial octavo magazine.

This paper is now issued overy day. The aubscription is fixed at Four Dollars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Seven Dollars Fifty Cents including postage to Coast ports.

It is the first Chinese Newspaper ever issued under purely native direction. The phief support of the paper is of course from . the native community. amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and securities necessary to place it on a business and legal footing. The projectors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in Chius and Japan,from Australia, California, Singapore, Penang, Saigon, and other places frequented. by the Chinese, - consider themselves justified in guaranteeing an ultimate circulation of between 3,000 and 4,000 copies. The advantages offered to advertimers are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find it to their interest to avail themselves of

The field open to a paper of this description—conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obstructive in toneis almost limitless. It on the one hand commands Chinase belief and interest while on the other it deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners.
